MC CARTHY'S "THOUGHT EXCHANGE."

Senator Stanford's Private Secretary's Mode of Amusement.

"Did you ever hear about McCarthy's 'Thought Exchange'?" one of a group asked in a restaurant the other day.

"Who's McCarthy?" somebody asked.

"Why, John B. McCarthy, Senator Stanford's private secretary," said the first.

"He's an odd genius, and so handy that the California millionaire gives him his own salary of $5,000 a year in addition to the $6 a day allowed by the government to attend to his affairs. I'm reminded of his 'Thought Exchange' by reading the story of Clyatt, the London reporter, who had witnessed 800 executions."

The gentleman present said they had never heard of the "Exchange."

"Well," said the first speaker, "McCarthy used to be a newspaper reporter. He has worked in New York and in San Francisco, and a good many towns between them. Before he became Stanford's secretary he was in Washington, a reporter on the old National Republican. He complained that life was so dull Sunday nights that it wasn't worth living, so he organized the 'Thought Exchange.' He printed a notice in The Republican that such an exchange had been organized, and that all people who had any views on any subject would be welcome, and invited to speak. He rented a hall on Tenth street, and the next Sunday night about fifty were present."

"There were Spiritualists who wanted to give exhibitions of their powers. There were labor agitators. There were socialists and temperance workers. Everybody was allowed to speak. The following Sunday the attendance was larger and the speakers of about the same sort. The hall rent was eight dollars an evening. A collection was taken up which usually amounted to a dollar or two more than that, and that was clear profit. The thing went along until the owner refused to rent the hall, and so the 'Exchange' was about to move out to a little hall near Twentieth street and Pennsylvania avenue; but it did not make the change."

"What has this to do with a man who had seen 300 executions?" some one asked.

"As I said, McCarthy used to be a newspaper reporter. He had seen hangings in a dozen states—about forty in all is his record, I think. He saw Guiteau executed, and had been present at lynchings in Missouri and elsewhere. On the last night the 'Exchange' was to meet in the Tenth street hall no speakers came forward. Something had to be done, and McCarthy was equal to the occasion. He went upon the platform and announced that he would give a lecture. His subject would be 'The Comparative Merits of the Long and Short Drop at Executions.' He went at it and discussed the subject as coolly as one would discuss whether Washington or Napoleon were the greater general. He talked for two hours. He cited several executions he had witnessed as showing the merits of the two systems."

"He described one or two horrible affairs where a rope, and a mob, and a bridge were the principal accessories. The ladies present got up and went away at that, and the others of his audience were either dazed or charmed with his audacity. After talking for two hours, he announced the change in place of meeting for the next week, and said he would deliver another lecture on the same subject, giving especial attention to lynchings."

"One of the long haired men present came to him after the lecture and said, 'Of course your lecture was very fine, and it certainly shows you have had some remarkable experiences, but don't you think it would be wise for the next time to take something in which we could all be interested?' Next week there was no audience, and the 'Thought Exchange' was dead. It wasn't long after that that McCarthy was appointed private secretary by Mr. Stanford."

NAVY YARD REFORM.
 Secretary Tracy has given notice that he intends to reform navy yard abuses. The necessity for changing the present method of conducting the yards was pointed out by the Secretary at a banquet in Boston a month or two ago, when he said, what everybody knew, that the yards were mere partisan machines conducted in the interest of politicians instead of the public. The Secretary has selected the Mare Island navy yard in which to inaugurate the proposed reforms. The positions of foremen and master mechanics are declared vacant on the first of next August. An examination of applicants for filling those positions will be held at the navy yard beginning June 23, and will be open to all who can give evidence of experience in conducting the kind of work at which they seek employment, and who are citizens of the United States.

What a change that is from the days of tape-worm tickets, when no workman who dared to assert his manhood and vote for the men and the principles of his choice was permitted to work for the United States at Mare Island. What a change it is even from the present regulations, which makes the recommendation of a politician more effective than the skill of the artisan in getting him employment. Now the principal qualifications are being a member of the party in power and having the indorsement of a Congressman. Henceforth, if the order of the Secretary is carried into effect, they will consist of being an American citizen and a competent mechanic.

THE MCKINLEY BLUNDER.
 The Sacramento Record-Union, a hitherto blue-blooded Republican paper, now designates the new tariff bill as "The McKinley Blunder." It says: "There has been no criticism of the bill not justified by developments under it. Take, for instance, the promise that it would enhance wages and stimulate new manufactures. Neither has happened nor is there any indication that there is going to be any augmented manufacturing over the normal increase consistent with the growth of the country."

So far few Republican papers are as candid as the Record-Union, some of them apparently deceiving themselves with the idea that wages have gone up and manufactures increased since the passage of the act, when, as a matter of fact, wages are lower, and the prices of many articles higher. It now looks as if there will be no opposition to an adjustment of the tariff, save from the monopolists, who are especially favored by the McKinley law. As $350,000,000, or thereabouts, must be collected annually from the duties on imports for the support of the Government, the tariff will be high enough no matter what party is in power.

THE PEOPLE'S PARTY IN IOWA.

Iowa elects State officers this year, and the People's Party is first in the field with a full ticket. The convention was held at Des Moines last Wednesday and was well attended. Prominent members of the Farmers' Alliance addressed the convention, and General J. B. Weaver, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, submitted a report which was adopted. The platform indorses the Cincinnati declaration of principles, and on State issues condemns the State Executive Council for refusing to increase the railroad assessment, and demands the Australian ballot system, and denounces the Legislature for defeating the same.

In 1890 the full Republican State ticket was elected by small pluralities, though the Congressional representation was changed from one Democrat and ten Republicans, in the Fifty-first Congress to six Democrats and five Republicans in the present Congress. There were four tickets in the field last November, though the Labor Union and Prohibition party combined polled less than 11,000 out of a total of 390,305 votes.

The June steamers to Europe are all filled, and it is necessary to engage a berth a month ahead. Nearly all the high protectionists are "encouraging home industries" by going to Europe to spend a part of their profits. Carnegie, whose employees strike three or four times a year, is a reduction of wages, and is against a right to vast amounts of money, and profits, and is purchasing the land and profits of the Scotch, and is spending the millions which he makes here abroad.

The Prussian Minister of Justice is taking quite an interest in the new American method of execution by electricity. In Prussia capital punishment is inflicted by decapitation, and many consider that method of execution too barbarous, though there is not much probability of a change being made.

SACRAMENTO ASSASSINS.

A Woman's Skull Cracked With a Hatchet.

Special to the Journal.
 SACRAMENTO, June 5.—Another brutal crime was committed here last night. Late this afternoon the police were informed that a woman had been assaulted at a house on Twenty-Second street. The officers went to the place and found a woman named Mrs. Spillman in bed in the house of Mr. Gehring. The woman presented a horrible appearance. The skull over the left eye had been carried away or crushed in, and the brain protruded through the orifice. The face was covered with blood and the right eye badly bruised. The woman succeeded in telling the Chief of Police the story of her injuries. She said she had gone to bed last night, when about 11 o'clock there was a knock at the door. She asked who was there and a man replied they wanted whiskey. Mrs. Spillman said there was none in the house, and immediately the door was burst in and three men rushed in. One of them instantly struck her over the left eye with a heavy instrument, knocking her senseless. She thinks, however, she can remember seeing the men run as soon as the blow was struck. The men were all strangers to her and she does not think she could identify them. At 4 o'clock this morning Mrs. Zudler, a woman who was sleeping in the kitchen of Mrs. Spillman's house, heard groans and went to her aid. She called Mrs. Gehring and the woman was borne to the latter's house. It is not believed she can recover. She separated from her husband some time ago on account of domestic trouble, but says he was not one of her assailants. Chief of Police Drew thinks the wound was inflicted with a hatchet. There is no clue to the assassins.

The Itata to Be Sent Back for Trial.
 Special to the Journal.
 WASHINGTON, June 5.—Secretary Tracy said to-day the Itata will be sent back to the United States to stand trial. There is no expectation that the officers and crew of the Itata will jeopardize their liberty by returning with the vessel to San Diego, and, in fact, as it was reported from Mexico that the commander of the insurgent war ship Esmeralda acted as Captain of the Itata as far as Acapulco, there are at least good reasons why he must not return to the United States. In official circles it is believed the Itata is not likely to suffer heavily as the result of her escapade. The only dispatch received at the Navy Department to-day from Admiral McCann at Iquique was correcting the statement as to the location of the Itata when the arms were transferred to it from the schooner Robert and Minnie. This transfer, the dispatch says, took place off the San Clemente Islands, a few miles from the coast, instead of off San Diego harbor. The location of the transfer may be of importance in determining the question of the jurisdiction of the United States Court.

The Ham Case.
 Special to the Journal.
 LAWSON, June 5.—Juror Rhodes in the Hamilton case was taken sick to-day, and being unable to set on the jury, the case was postponed. The case has been hampered by sickness and death since the commencement. Judge Sabin died first, and was immediately followed by John F. Alexander, ex-Attorney General of Nevada, whom Hamilton had retained. Now the sickness of a juror slows the proceedings again, and some time may elapse before his recovery unless both sides agree to finish with eleven men.

Jean's Factories Closing.
 Special to the Journal.
 LOUISVILLE, June 5.—Representatives of Kentucky jeans manufacturers which operate 3,200 looms here in Nashville, Evansville and other southern cities met here yesterday and determined to run only two-thirds time for the next fifteen weeks. This will reduce the output to 50,000 pieces at a value of $60,000. Unsatisfactory condition of trade is given as the reason.

MacDonald Unconscious.
 Special to the Journal.
 TORONTO, June 5.—The following alarming bulletin has just been received: Sir John MacDonald is unconscious, and his end is fast approaching.

THE ROCKFORD REDEEMER.

The Experience of a Californian Who Resembles Him.

Special to the Journal.
 CHICAGO, June 5.—Schweinfurth the Rockford Messiah, who has been worrying the people of Kansas City so much of late, left here last night for Chicago and incidentally Mr. A. McCartney of California, who resembles Schweinfurth and who was traveling east with his daughter, had a very exciting experience. He had been observed about the city yesterday and quietly trailed by some people, who supposed him to be Schweinfurth and when he started for the Kansas City depot last night with his daughters, word quickly spread about that the Rockford man was leaving town with his two Kansas City females. A crowd of infuriated citizens hastened to the depot and when the McCartneys arrived in a carriage a rush was made for them. Mr. McCartney was considerably surprised at the hostile demonstration, but promptly whipped out a young cannon and ordered the crowd to stand back. He then explained to them who he was, whereupon one of the leaders of the mob told him they had confounded him with Schweinfurth and the crowd dispersed. All this time it is said, Schweinfurth was snugly ensconced in a berth in a sleeping car listening to the tumult outside.

College Students' Riot.
 Special to the Journal.
 BELLOTT, Wis., June 5.—There was much excitement to-day over a fracas of the college and academy students last night which resulted in an incipient riot. The Senior Academy class was to have an annual banquet, which event, for years, has been the occasion of more or less of a muss.

Usually members of the banqueting class are kidnapped by the other classes or are otherwise detained from participating in the festivities. Last night a crowd of college and academy men made a charge on the banqueting class. One student was shot in the side by another, but the wounds are not dangerous. Windows were broken in the hotel where the supper was to be served. The toast master was taken from his home to the banquet hall under guard of police.

There are several bandaged heads at the recitations to-day. It was the roughest event the college boys ever engaged in here.

Three Brothers Murdered.
 Special to the Journal.
 SPOKANE, June 5.—Passengers in from Coulee City bring additional particulars of a triple murder near Waterville, Wednesday. Four brothers named Von Bremen, Germans, young and unmarried, occupied two homesteads 15 miles northwest of Waterville on the Columbia river. Two of the brothers had lately arrived from Germany. The murderer was named Robert. He committed the murder with a shotgun and is still at large. The remaining brother, who can speak very little English, carried the news to a neighbor who rode that night to Waterville. The Sheriff left at midnight with a posse in pursuit of the murderer, but so far nothing further was learned from the scene.

Prof. Keeler Going East.
 Special to the Journal.
 SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Prof. James E. Keeler, of the Lick Observatory, left for Pittsburgh to-day to assume charge of the astronomical work at the Alleghany Observatory. Mr. Campbell, of the University of Michigan, it is stated, will succeed him in certain branches of work at the Lick Observatory.

A Train Strikes a Tornado.
 Special to the Journal.
 JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., June 5.—The Indiana, Polis & Louisville fast train, ran into a tornado near Crothersville last night. The train awayed fearfully and the passengers were panic stricken. The train was running nearly 50 miles an hour.

Davitt in San Francisco.
 Special to the Journal.
 SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Michael Davitt and wife arrived to-day. It is undecided how long they will remain on the coast.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irritable bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind. "I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat I did not get well of. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with trash paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—looked three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food rolled down and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." GEORGE A. PAGE, Watertown, Mass.

"A ROYAL PASS."

Interpreted by a Strong Company.
 Although George C. Staley in "A Royal Pass" has never waited us previous to this season, he has established a reputation in other cities that entitles him to a respectful consideration. He is described as a handsome man, of great dramatic ability, especially in comedy, which is his forte. He is a sweet singer, and introduces some very beautiful songs and lullabies during the course of the play. "A Royal Pass" is highly interesting and amusing, is richly and picturesquely costumed and interpreted by a strong company.

MISCELLANEOUS.

"Don't Monkey" with your Blood.
Delay is dangerous in sickness; it is especially hazardous in diseases of the blood. Corruption breeds corruption, and mild cases, if neglected, develop into incurable chronic disorders.
It is a safe, speedy and sure cure for all contagious blood poisoning, skin eruptions, and has cured thousands of cases of Cancer.
It is a powerful tonic for delicate persons, yet is harmless and incapable of injuring the most sensitive system.

Disillusion.
Oh, sweet reality long deferred
Bliss hope so fair and strong!
And love notes trembled in each soft word
Till sorrow's spirit like some glad bird
Whose heart to tenderest chords is stirred
And my soul burst forth in song!
No fear gave warning or doubt demurred;
Faith lured in slumbers long;
That same sweet symphony oft recurred,
And dearer, tenderer each time heard,
Like woe note told of a love mad bird
Whose being is lost in song!

Old Jokes Are Good.
A professional humorist said the other day: "There is a great truth about jokes which both readers and writers recognize in practice, but do not often formulate. It is this:
A good joke improves no less with age than does wine. Once upon a time there was a famous speaker whose tolerably bad lecture started off and ended with two of the most exquisite jokes ever invented. People traveled miles and sat patiently through the same lecture year after year to split their sides laughing at the same old jokes. After the effect of the introductory joke had worn off there was always perfect silence until the lecture was three-quarters done, when the anticipations of an audience which had never been swindled would begin to break out in gurgling laughter, nods, winks and whispers of 'It's coming!' And when at last this well seasoned old chunk of wit brought the performance to a close the very roof was raised.
But one fatal night there was a bad case of dyspeptic pessimism in a front seat. It is true that when he roared 'chestnut' at the first joke the audience nearly mobbed him, but the lecturer's tender spot was touched. He prepared a new lecture, which began and ended with two absolutely fresh jokes. When the lecturer walked upon the platform with his new manuscript in his hand he received an ovation.
The first new joke seemed to stupefy the people. But a few sentences of the new lecture woke them up, and they rose as one man and demanded their money at the box office. At the next town the lecturer affixed the old jokes to the new lecture, and all went so well that he is still cracking them with constantly increasing success.—Chicago Mail.

A "Homeless" Novelist.
Mr. David Christie Murray has been recounting to the good people of South Australia how he became a novelist. On his first arrival in London he found, like so many others, the difficulty of getting employment on the press. Before the turn of the tide came, he says, he had four days' wandering in the streets, and at nights sat on the benches of the Thames embankment in most curious company. He was at last helped by the late John Lovell, of the Press association, afterward of the Liverpool Mercury, who "invented" some work for him, and sent him two guineas in a pill box, labeled "To be taken immediately."—London Tit-Bits.

A Curious Apache Belief.
The Apache Indians' religious belief prevents them from committing murder in the dark. If a dozen Apaches should discover a man sleeping by his camp fire at night no amount of money would hire them to attack him until the sun came up. They believe that if they kill a man at night their own souls will walk in eternal darkness forever. Knowing this curious superstition, hunters, scouts, trappers and others traveling through the Apache nation move about during the night and lay by in some safe retreat during the day.—St. Louis Republic.

The word catarrh, as popularly used, means either nasal catarrh or bronchitis. Nasal catarrh is often helped by snuffing up, so as to carry it into the mouth, a weak solution of salt and water, repeating the operation several times a day. Where the disease is very persistent, it is well, when possible, to try a change of climate. In bronchitis the case should be attended by a physician.

The fact that many of the houses of Portland, Or., and San Francisco are built of redwood is given as a reason for the few destructive fires that occur in those cities. The wood is almost unflamable, and, though a fire will smolder in it, it never blazes. The great objection to the use of this wood in the eastern states is that it will not stand the alternations of heat and cold.

A marvelous feat is recorded of a young Japanese student. He entered the University of Berlin some years ago as a medical student, being then entirely ignorant of German as well as of science; yet in three months he passed an examination conducted in German and including several branches of the medical curriculum.

When the ankle has been severely sprained, immerse it immediately in hot water, keeping it there for fifteen or twenty minutes. After it has been taken out of the water keep it bandaged with cloths wrung out of hot water.

Scientific men say that the earth's age is about half a million years for the nebular and stellar period, and about 25,000,000—of which 15,000,000 are past—for the period of organic beings.

While the armies of the British empire cost about $177,000,000 a year, the German empire costs about $167,000,000 a year, and the French army a little over $140,000,000.

A $20,000 home for the young women attending the Peabody Normal college is soon to be erected in Nashville, Tenn., by the trustees of the University of Nashville.

It is said that all along the coast of the African possessions of Germany gibbets are erected, and it is a common sight to see an Arab strung up as a warning to others.
